THE LOBBIES FILLED

NOW CHANGED TO THIS CITY.

Candidates in Town and Where Their Headquarters May Be Found-Scenes at the Denison.

A glance about the Denuison House gives ample indication that a Republican State convention is on. As early as last night the lobbles were filled with Republican politicians from over the State. Little is heard competitor more than 175. More literature turned up yesterday, one bit being a pamphlet giving the record and a photograph of Mr. Mount, and another being a folder in the hands of Mr. Griffin's friends, showing the geographical location of all the candidates and Republican holders of State office. Among the candidates for nomination in the city last evening were: Frank B. Posey, Charles F. Griffin, Warren G. Sayre, James S. Dodge, James A. Mount and James T. Johnston, all looking after the governorship. The rest will be in to-day, and the headquarters will be formally opened tomorrow. All of the parlor floor and most of the floor above it at the Dennison have been engaged for this purpose. The present State officers have joined in one reception room, but all the others will have separate parlors. They are located as follows: .

-For Governor .-Will Cumback, Parlor E, office floor. James S. Dodge, Parlors 134 and 135. Charles E. Everett, Parlors C and 29. Charles E. Everett, Parlors A and B. Charles F. All the hotels in the city have made elaborate preparations for what promises to be the biggest convention the city has ever known. The halls are stacked with extra cots and chairs, linen has been spread over the corridors, and an extra corps of serv-ants has been engaged. The size of the Re-publican convention of 1894 took the hotel people by surprise, and caught some of them unprepared for the jam, but this year the preparations have been so ample that, though even a larger crowd is expected, everybody will probably be able to find accommodations without trouble.

THE CONVENTION ARRANGEMENTS. Harry Mounts Sergeant-at-Arms-The Issue of Tickets.

The arrangements for the convention are completely mapped out. The details are in charge of Harry Mounts, who has been appointed sergeant-at-arms. The decorations will be elaborate, as usual. The entire seating capacity of the hall, after the stage, galleries and all have been used, is but 3,600. The delegates and alternates will occupy 2,830 of these seats, leaving only 770 seats to meet the general demand for tickets, which is already something enormous. The stage will be filled with seats for distinguished visitors. The press gallery will run the length of the stage, immediately in front of it, raised to about half its height. The whole lower floor will be occupied by the seats of delegates and alternates, divided by a railing, past which nobody will be permitted to go unless he can show a dele gate's ticket, and only 1,415 such tickets have been printed. A part of the alternates will have to be seated in the galleries. The delegations will be seated by districts, beginning with the First and running across the room and back.

Pursuant to adjournment at its last meet-On the day after the convention, whether it be Friday or Saturday, there will be a meeting of the delegation to St. Louis to look over the arrangements made for their acof the State committee last December. It is likely that the various candidates for national committeeman will be able at this meeting to find out something about their chances, though the selection will not be made until after the delegation reaches St.

While there has been no agreement on the subject, it is the understanding of the McKinley managers that the resolution of indorsement shall go to the committee on resolutions, though it will not be made a part of the platform, of course. If Judge Martiniale is elected a delegate at the primaries Tuesday evening the honor of presenting the resolution will probably be accorded to him; otherwise it will probably be offered by Frank M. Dice, of Crawfords Contest for Governor in Marion. Indianapolis Letter in Terre Haute Express There is much activity in preparation for the primaries next Tuesday night for the election of delegates to the State convention. Ordinarily when a county has a candidate for nomination on the State ticket his competitors from other parts of the State take it for granted that the county will be for him and give him a clear field. Marion county and the city of Indianapolis, however, are regarded as belonging to the whole State, and sometimes outside candidates feel perfectly free to come in and get what they can on the theory that the county is too large to have any solidarity of interest and will never give solid support to any one man. They concede that John L. Griffiths will get a majority of the county delegation in the governorship contest, and Mr. Griffiths's friends put their claims at seventy or eighty of the 165 delegates.

The only outside candidates whose friends are making any effort in the county are Messrs. Griffin, Shockney and Doxey. Mr. Griffin's friends are not making an open fight, but many of them are endeavoring to go to the convention as delegates with the idea of voting for him after the first ballot or two. Shockney's friends, with John Q. Hicks, a well-known railroad man as manager, have a slate in the Ninth and Four-teenth wards, and will possibly put one up in the Eighth. They may carry the Ninth, but the only delegates they can get outside of this ward, which is entitled to five votes, will be where they can succeed in slipping in a man here and there. The Doxey people, under the leadership of Charles Kahlo, have made up a "slate" of Charles Kahlo, have made up a "slate" in each ward, and will put up as strong a fight as they know how to capture the delegates. They may succeed in the First, Elighth and Fifteenth wards, in all of which they will be able to make a pretty stiff fight, but it is not likely they will cut any figure elsewhere. A few weeks ago Mr. Kahlo said that all they cared for was second choice on promises in this county, but since the recent strong development of Griffiths sentibeen changed, and a strenuous endeavor is being made to take as much of his own county away from him as possible. This, of course, means that Doxey will never get any more votes in this county than he succeeds in capturing at the primaries. The Republican leaders in the county are of one accord in believing that the sentiment of the county is for Griffiths, and that he should be given solid and loyal support.

NEW PENSION LAW PAYMENTS.

The First One Will Be Made in This City To-Morrow.

To-morrow the first payment on pensions under the new law abolishing the feature the local pension office. Nearly 1,500 pensioners have failed to call at the pension office for their vouchers, and a great deal of trouble is anticipated on this account. Many vouchers have already been executed and rere-execution, as the pension laws require that no vouchers shall be signed prior to the | gramme of events: first day for the quarterly payment, in this case the 4th day of May. Circular letters were sent to every pensioner in the State who has been in the habit of calling at the office for his check, notifying him to forward his certificates, so that the vouchers could be sent to him by the local office. Some of the circulars evidently never reached their destination, as there are so many vouchers which have not been called for. Great confusion will doubtless attend the present payment, as people will call at the office expecting to get their checks and will be considerably disappointed upon learning that they will have to go before a notary to have their vouchers acknowledged, and that there will be a delay of two or three days in getting their checks. After this payment is made it is thought that there will be less trouble, as the system will be better understood. Hereafter it will be unnecessary for the pensioners to call at the office at all, as the vouchers for the next payment will be forwarded to the postoffice address of the pensioners with the checks for the May payment. Chief clerk Riley says that pensioners should see that great care is exercised by the official taking the acknowledgment, as the slightest deviation from the printed instructions will render the voucher incomplete and necessitate its re-turn for correction. Aside from the confusion that will attend the first payment, and the delay of two or three days in remitting checks, it is thought that the new law will prove satisfactory after it is once understood. Pensioners should rot expect to receive their checks before Weinesday, and in some cases it may be a day or two later. The new law will not have much effect on pensioners in other cities, who will probably receive their checks about as promptly as heretofore, although they may be delayed a day or two.

DRAWING TEACHERS ADJOURN.

Mr. T. C. Steele Reads a Paper on "The Gospel of Beauty."

The annual convention of the Western Drawing Teachers' Association closed yesterday at noon, after one of the most profitable meetings, the members claim, that has ever been held. The morning was devoted to the reading and discussion of papers and the election of officers. The place of holding the next meeting was fixed for St. Louis, but the date has not yet been decided upon. The leading paper was that of T. C. Steele, of this city, on "The Gospel of Beauty." In the course of his remarks he commented upon the prevailing fear that this age of realism would have a tendency to destroy art. This, he said, was a false fear, for while the age might determine the form and substance, it was the psychic force which controlled soul and power and the latter could not die. Mr. Steele's paper was discussed by Miss Locke, of Chicago, and Mr. Dewhurst, of this city, and another paper on the same lines, from the pen of Charles Francis Browne, of Chicago, was read by Miss Mary Nicholson. Walter S. Perry, of Brooklyn, gave a review of the work of the association as shown in the exhibition made here representing forty cities. The officers for the ensuing year elected were as follows:

W. Chase, Chicago. A REPRIEVE FOR YOUNG ARNOLD. Court Sentenced Him Yesterday but

the Governor Interfered. Governor Matthews has granted a reprieve of fifteen days to Thompson Arnold, who was yesterday sentenced to serve one year three years ago. The bank failed shortly after the Indianapolis Bank failure, and the attention of the authorities was called to it. Thompson Arnold was a bookkeeper in the bank, while his cousin, John Arnold, was the manager and cashler. The latter fled, and Thompson Arnold was placed on trial. The statute covering the offense places the minimum punishment at two years, but, not-withstanding this, the jury placed the punishment at one year. The case was taken to the Supreme Court, where it was alleged that the action of the jury in fixing the pun-ishment at one year's imprisonment invali-dated the whole proceedings. The Supreme Court, however, recently amrmed the lower court, holding the verdict was a valid one. Yesterday the presiding judge passed sentence on young Arnold.

Petitions for pardon are being prepared, but because of the delay in waiting for the decision of the Supreme Court they have not yet been filed with the Governor. The reprieve was granted in order to give the Governor a chance to examine the petitions. It is said that Arnold has consumption. His friends claim that he was merely an underling in the bank, and in no way responsible for its failure. He is a son-in-law of Captain Frazier. ex-judge of the Supreme Court.

Her attorneys produced a diary which the plaintiff kept for two years after his marriage, and which, unfortunately for the owner, fell into the hands of the wife. This diary set out many of the plain-tiff's peccadillos in detail. Schonacker appears to have been punctual in keeping record of his day's doings. One entry read: "Met Nancy Hanks at 10:50." Another: "Followed Berdie and Cora after 2 p. m." Mrs Schonacker's attorneys have a large amount of correspondence which they expect to produce for the purpose of showing up Schonacker's shortcomings.

MAYBE BEER WILL GO DOWN. Terre Haute Is to Enter the Indian-

There is a slight prospect for a war between rival breweries in this city. Recently J. C. Schaf, who was for a number of years manager of the Maus brewery, purchased an interest in the Terre Haute Brewing Company, It is now said the C. Habich Company has joined this combination, and will bottle only the Terre Haute company's prod-uct. A large plant is to be erected on West Ohio street, and the business is to be pushed vigorously.

Albert Lieber is reported as saying that the Indianapolis Brewing Company intended to meet every attempt the new combination should make to establish itself in this city; that his company would open a saloon near every one which handles the Terre Haute

During the week the headquarters in the When Building will be prepared for the reception of members.

Rusie Has Not Signed.

Amos Rusie is still in the city, and he says there is no change in the relation between him and the New York ball club. In an interview yesterday he was reticent about discussing the subject, but said that there was little prospect that he would go to New York. In the meantime he is keeping in condition by practicing with the Indianapolis team and at the Ohio-street park in the absence of the local players. A report was sent out from Muncle that Rusle had started east to join the New Yorks. Rusle said this was probably started by his brother-in-law, who knew nothing about his affairs. President Freedman, of the New York club, said yesterday to a New York newspaper man that the report that the management had compromised its differences with Rusle was unfounded, and There were eleven tables. The favors were small colored baskets filled with confections and the prizes were of cut glass.
